

Steven Carse - Founder & CEO

After being laid off from his corporate job in 2009, Steven moved onto his brother's couch and committed all of his energy to one idea - create the best popsicles ever made. Inspired by the Latin American fresh fruit paletas, Steven and his brother Nick created delicious flavors of local and natural handmade pops.

Starting with a humble pushcart, King of Pops is now a local favorite in 7 cities throughout the South and an Atlanta staple. King of Pops can be found at events like Bonnaroo, your closest Whole Foods Market and your neighbor's backyard barbecue.

